

TRUSTS TO OWN ALL THE ISLANDS

Dismal Predictions Concerning Philippines Made by Rawlins.

ATTACKS THE TARIFF BILL SAYS IT GIVES A CHANCE TO GREEDY OFFICERS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—At 10 o'clock, the end of the morning session, Mr. Lodge, chairman of the committee on the Philippines, called up the Philippines tariff bill and the senate proceeded to its consideration. The effect of Mr. Lodge's motion was to make the measure the unfinished business of the senate.

Senators Rawlins opposed the bill. After reviewing the bill proposed by a majority of the committee, Mr. Rawlins said it must be plain that the tariff measure would not tend to promote peace and order in the Philippine archipelago. He did not think it difficult to foresee the results of the policy proposed in the tariff bill. War, insurrection, brigandage, robbery and assassination would continue. Industry and trade would be paralyzed. The waste of blood and treasure would continue. The horror of the situation, under indescribable, would grow more aggravated.

Cites Examples in Cuba.

The Philippine commission, he asserted, desired to have large sums of money for expenses. There was no limit to the commission's power to multiply offices, employments and salaries. It owed no responsibility, he declared, to the people. One of the necessary results, he insisted, of the administration's "imperial program" was that the officers in the island would multiply their fortunes and then return to this country to live in affluence.

Look, said he, at the conduct of our agents in Cuba. The trust funds committed to their care, examine the proceedings of even our judges, marshals and other officials in far distant Alaska. Conspiracies to commit a larceny of wealth seem to be predominant. The policy outlined by the majority proposes a permanent institution of the practice of tyranny.

He declared that the object of the measure proposed by the majority was to obstruct and destroy trade with the Philippines by placing emarkings upon it. These methods, he insisted, would incite the islanders to further hostility and insurrection.

Army Cannot Protect Them.

The great army now maintained in the islands was insufficient to protect life and property. He insisted that the plan of campaign adopted by the army in the Philippines and denounced the "line" by which Aguinaldo was made a prisoner. It was idle, he said, to suppose that the people of the islands ever would forgive us or look upon us as friends.

After reviewing briefly the origin of the insurrection, Mr. Rawlins said it was not too late yet to fulfill our pledge to accord them their independence. It is not yet too late to stay the hand of the carpet-bagger and remove the islands from future exploitation.

The exploitation, he declared, would result in the control of everything in the islands by trusts. When the Philippines became "this trust infested" island, he said, it would be a tragedy. "The Democratic proposition," he said, "is that tariff should be imposed for revenue, the duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country and not to discriminate between class or section."

"The proposition which the minority submits, if adopted, promises a simple remedy for the troubles which afflict us. It proposes to relinquish the islands. It proposes that so long as we continue in possession of the islands there shall be no war between them and the United States. When the United States withdraws from the islands and they assume in all respects the attitude of a free country, they will be subject to the provisions of our general laws relating to tariff taxation."

Let the islands go, otherwise the burden of our difficulties will grow. Taxes, like the Old Man of the Sea, will hang upon our backs. And in the end the gory head of the trouble which he raised upon a pile as a terrible warning to any who would struggle to be free."

Fears Decapitation of Informants.

Mr. Gaines of Tennessee opposed the bill, saying it would be a "decapitation" of the military police. He denounced the administration's policy in the Philippines. Mr. Gaines declared that when the Philippines were learned absolutely that the Americans promised independence to the Philippines.

Mr. Gaines said that the information he had given me in confidence, and that if he were to divulge the names of those who had given it to him they would lose their heads. This reply elicited jeers from the Republican side.

Mr. Dismore of Arkansas also spoke in opposition to the administration's Philippine policy. He insisted that we should not turn our backs upon the glorious traditions of the past and end upon a colonial policy.

At the conclusion of Mr. Rawlins' speech, Mr. Bacon of Georgia rose to a colloquy between himself and Mr. Lodge concerning an order of the secretary of war to permit ships under foreign flags to enter the trade ports of the United States and the Philippines after the decision of the supreme court that the islands were domestic territory. No extension of trade, he said, was suffering for such violation of the law.

Mr. Bacon said that if he had been the secretary of war he would not have issued such an order, because he could conceive of no emergency which would warrant him in violating the law. He protested against the "hot haste" in pressing the pending measure and against what he asserted was an effort to withhold from the senate information relating to the Philippines. Mr. Stewart of Nevada took issue with Mr. Bacon's argument that an executive officer could not set a law for the public good as being in contravention of the history and jurisprudence of England and America. He asserted that the rule had existed for centuries that statutory law must yield to great emergencies.

TO RETIRE LONGSTREET.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Senator Morgan today introduced a bill placing General James Longstreet in the retired list of the army with the rank of major, the rank he held when he entered the service of the confederacy at the beginning of the civil war.

French Duel on the Tapis.

Paris, Jan. 21.—In course of debate in the chamber of deputies today on the foreign estimates, M. Laisant, anti-Semite, took offense at words spoken by M. D'Extremes, a Constant, and sent a messenger to him with a challenge. The seconds are discussing the question whether a duel is necessary.

NO NEED OF CAMPS. PETER MORSE'S FIGHT FOR HIS LIFE IS NOW ON

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Governor Bell, who arrived from Manila last night, landed this afternoon. Gov. Bell expects to start for Washington tomorrow. He will stop at Cincinnati, his home, en route.

Discussing conditions in the Philippines, Governor Bell said:

"I wish the press would correct the impression that there is war on all the islands. The insurrection is confined to two localities, the province of Batangas and the island of Samar. This morning I received a most encouraging telegram from General Wright, who is saving governor in my absence. It said that owing to General Bell's strong repressive measures that the trouble in Batangas was being quieted. He further said that the island of Samar was quiet, and as there are only 1,100 to 1,200 rifles in the province, there is no doubt that Batangas will be as peaceful as the other provinces."

Deprecates Bell's Plan.

"I don't think General Bell will have need to adapt the reconcentration principle to Batangas. I don't see that it will be any necessity for this, as the insurrection is confined to the province in a fair way of pacification."

The dispatch then says that there are 400 teachers in the island in 450 parishes, and 200 of these places are occupied by United States troops. I may say that the Filipino is not hostile to the teacher. One was captured some time ago, but he was sent back in a hummock. The inference is plain that they entertain no hostility towards pedagogues or pedagogy.

There is a difference upon every body that civil government is a success. There is a strong party in the islands and it is composed of the most influential men among the Filipinos. They are working earnestly and zealously toward bringing about happy relations between their countrymen and the government.

That part of Forest Dale made famous by the murder mystery, the cellar of the government. They are doing home, the ground plan of its main floor, the location of its furnishings and the details of the office of the Pacific coast. The government is doing home on a uniform scale and suspended upon an immense easel so that every local reference could be readily understood. The court, counsel, witnesses and spectators.

Nine Witnesses For State.

With this unique, business-like setting, the dreary sequel to the tragedy of the night of Monday, Dec. 16, proceeded to unfold. Nine witnesses had been called by the state. John D. McAllister, Frank Torgerson, Edward Jenner, Ernest Romney, J. D. Brown, Dr. H. N. Mayo, Mrs. James R. Hay, James R. Hay, and Peter Morose were the defense had witnesses on hand their identity was not divulged. Such a suggestion was thrown out by Attorney Stewart, however, in a motion that "all witnesses, whether for the prosecution or defense, should be excluded until called to take the stand."

The proceedings opened with a matter of fact, business-like snap that proved a bitter disappointment to the spectators. The weeping wife, who is usually permitted to sit beside the accused in such a case, and whose presence is used to tremendous advantage by criminal lawyers to influence emotional jurors, was not on hand.

Position of Mortensen.

If there was anything to appeal to the emotionalist so far as the ocular senses are concerned it was the pathetic sight of a man abandoned to his fate by those he holds most dear. Such was the position of Peter Mortensen. The chair usually occupied by the wife on such occasions was reserved for the faithful brother, who whatever he may dread or know in his heart, has abandoned his business and devoted his money to aid the accused in this, his greatest hour of need.

J. D. H. McAllister of the county surveyor's office was the first witness to be called to the stand. By the aid of a note book to which he frequently referred, he gave a complete explanation of the surroundings. From Peter Mortensen's door, where Hay was last seen alive, to the grave down the lonely City railroad tracks, where his body was unearthed two days later, witness said was precisely 1,242.52 feet. The distance from the grave to Mortensen's door by the route the state claims was used by the murderer in returning to that spot when his terrible work was completed was 1,429.76 feet.

RASH ACT OF BROTHERS.

Suicide of One Three Years Ago Cause of Other's Death.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 21.—Young Alvin Boyce, after brooding over the suicide of his brother William, who he idolized, and since whose death three years ago he has had a periodical attack of despondency, today morning, on the anniversary of the birthday of his dead brother, took his own life, taking poison, as did his dead brother.

Boyce, a 22-year-old man, was found early this morning dead at the door of his home. He asked a neighbor if he had taken it, and the neighbor answered that he had. Boyce had been the key of the room, and after finding it, Conger, called in a physician, but he was without effect, and death followed shortly.

Alvin Boyce was not quite 18 years old. His brother was a well-known football player in Butte's big team of 1895-96. Three years ago today he took his own life with poison in his room in this city.

SUPPOSED WESTERN BANDIT IS INDICTED

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 21.—The Knox county grand jury today returned three indictments against Harvey Logan, the alleged Montana train robber in jail here.

The indictments charge shooting Policemen Dinwiddie and Saylor with intent to kill on the night of Dec. 3, and with felonious assault on Luther Brady. This alleged assault led to the shooting of the policemen and Logan's subsequent arrest at Jefferson City, near here.

Logan probably will be tried at the present term of the circuit court on these charges. It is still a question as to whether he will be taken over to the federal court here after the state authorities are through with him.

Steamship Combine a Fact.

London, Jan. 21.—Every steamship line trading between England and America, except one, has agreed to form a freight combination, which will considerably higher than the rates at present in force.

ADAMIRAL SCHLEY'S APPEAL IS GIVEN TO THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Jan. 21.—Rear Admiral and Mrs. Schley arrived in Washington today after a ten days' visit to Savannah.

Messrs. Isidor Rayner and M. A. Teague, counsel for Rear Admiral Schley, reached Washington this forenoon with the rear admiral's appeal to the president, which they had prepared and which they proceeded to submit to the rear admiral. Mr. Teague stated that every effort would be made to get an early consideration of the appeal.

After a conference lasting several hours with his counsel, Admiral Schley approved the appeal from the findings of the court of inquiry, and it was delivered to the president late this afternoon by Mr. Teague. The appeal sets out the grounds of error upon points of law and facts alleged by Admiral Schley and concludes with a lengthy argument in support of his contention that he has been unfairly dealt with. Admiral Schley to recover the honor to make the appeal public. They say it must be given out at the White House.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—President E. A. Mungler of the Hamilton club, which is preparing to entertain Admiral Schley in Chicago, has given out the following statement:

"There is no basis for the report that Admiral Schley will take occasion at the banquet to give him next Saturday to make a statement, concerning the recent court of inquiry. No other speaker at the banquet will mention the subject."

JUDGE TANNER'S NEEDS

Asks Council For a Bailiff, Sofa and Other Things For His Court.

Judge H. S. Tanner of the civil division of the new city court directed the council's attention last evening to the necessity of having the services of a bailiff to maintain the peace and dignity of the court, to wait upon juries, etc. He requested that the office of bailiff be created. Accompanying the communication was a requisition for additional furniture for the court room, including a sofa, mirror, dresser, etc. The council is doing no business yet, but the matter was referred to the committee on municipal laws and police and prison departments.

How Mortensen Aced.

"Mortensen kept saying 'Poor James,' continued the witness. He walked back and forth in a restless manner and seemed greatly distressed. When he kept up to the Forest Dale store he kept saying up to the Forest Dale store and would start off again. Finally upon receiving a signal from Detective Sheets I informed him he was under arrest."

MULVEY IS SUED.

Action Brought Against Former Manager of Grand Theatre.

Something came off at the Grand theatre yesterday not announced on the bill boards. The officers of the Salt Lake Amusement association got together with a lawyer or two and proceeded to file two actions against Mr. Mulvey to recover $1,250. The sum of $420 is asked for rental for apartments in the theatre building occupied by Mr. Mulvey and his family, and $830 is demanded on the grounds that Mr. Mulvey received it for the use and benefit of the association, and on Dec. 25 last failed to pay it over.

Mr. Romney is Called.

George E. Romney was then called. He identified the accused as a former employee, and related the oft repeated story of the conversation that took place in his office between Hay, Mortensen and himself before Hay returned home. He told of expostulating with Mortensen, when the latter said he had $3,800 concealed in the cellar, and of how Mortensen induced Hay to make out a receipt at his office, together with how he gave Hay Mortensen's note to be received when the amount was paid him.

Attorney Christensen handed Romney the receipt and mortgage and asked him to identify the signature, which brought a storm of objection from Stewart, who wanted to know the object.

"This paper, Mr. Stewart, is the evidence of this case," responded Christensen. "Further objection followed, and court adjourned with Mr. Romney still under examination."

Balmy Weather in the Basin.

(Special to The Herald.)

Cody, Wyo., Jan. 21.—Spring plowing has been in progress in the farming districts of the Big Horn basin for several days. The weather is as balmy as spring and as the ground contains no frost the farmers desire to place their fields in condition to receive the crops at the earliest possible moment.

Mosquitoes Make Spring Debut.

(Special to The Herald.)

CROKER HAS RETIRED.

Out of Politics For Good and Going Abroad.

New York, Jan. 21.—At a banquet this evening, Richard Croker said: "I have retired from politics for good and all time to come. I undertook to do the work of our organization for seventeen years, but have now put it on the shoulders of a younger and more progressive man. I have no doubt our enemies will say: 'There is a sting tied to his back; he doesn't intend to get out at all, but they are mistaken.'"

Mr. Croker astonished all by announcing that he was to sail for England tomorrow morning in a steamer. His stay abroad, he said, would be but for a short time.

A LITTLE BIG WASTE.

DISINGUISH between economy and wisdom. Sitting at home to save shoe-leather is economy, but it is scarcely wisdom. In the same way, doing without Ivory Soap is economy but it isn't wise; your risks are greater than all possible saving. Every cheap soap contains free alkali. Now, free alkali will eat its way through the new oil cloth on the kitchen floor. Imagine, then, what it will do in a single Monday's washing! Is such economy wise?
